ANTICIPATING GERMAN REUNIFICATION

Steady support for reunification is marred slightly by security concerns of a significant minority.

Question: Would you favor or oppose the reunification of East and West Germany?

- Would favor reunification of East and West Germany: 76%
- Would oppose reunification: 16%
- Not sure: 8%

Source: Survey by Louis Harris and Associates for Businessweek, November 13-14, 1989.

Question: Do you think West Germany and East Germany should be united as one nation again?

- Should not: 13%
- Don't know/no answer: 11%
- Think West and East Germany should be united as one nation again: 76%

Question: Do you personally favor or oppose the formation of one nation by unification of East and West Germany?

- Would oppose: 22%
- Would favor: 61%
- Neither (vol.): 9%
- Not sure/refused: 13%

Source: Survey by the Los Angeles Times/The Economist, January 20, 1990.

Question: As you know, Germany was divided into two separate countries, East and West Germany, after World War II. Would you favor or oppose their becoming one country again?

- Would favor East and West Germany becoming one country again: 84%
- Would oppose: 14%
- Don't know/no opinion: 2%

Question: Do you have any concerns that a reunited Germany would be a threat to peace in Europe?

- Do not have concerns that a reunited Germany would threaten peace in Europe: 67%
- Yes, have concerns: 22%
- Don't know/no answer: 11%

Question: If there is a reunification between East and West Germany, do you think there would or would not be a serious risk of Germany becoming a military aggressor?

- Reunification of East and West Germany would pose a serious risk of Germany becoming a military aggressor: 53%
- Would not pose a serious risk: 34%
- Not sure: 14%

If the tenuous agreement among the NATO countries shown below prevails, a unified Germany will be a NATO member and U.S. troop levels in Europe will be stable.

Question: On balance, would you prefer to see a reunified Germany as part of NATO, or outside NATO as a neutral country, or what?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Country</th>
<th>Prefer to see a reunified Germany as part of NATO</th>
<th>Neutral</th>
<th>Other/don't know</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>United States</td>
<td>50%</td>
<td>27%</td>
<td>23%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Great Britain</td>
<td>61%</td>
<td>22%</td>
<td>17%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>France</td>
<td>43%</td>
<td>32%</td>
<td>26%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Source: Survey by the Los Angeles Times/The Economist, January 20, 1990.

Question: There are different opinions about whether a united Germany should remain in NATO or whether it should become a neutral country. Some say military alliances are crumbling and will soon be unimportant, therefore Germany should be made neutral. Others say we must remain in NATO so that our security will not be endangered. Which opinion comes closest to your own?

West German respondents
- Germany should become neutral
- Germany should remain in NATO
- Undecided

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>All</th>
<th>Prefer to see a reunified Germany as part of NATO</th>
<th>Neutral</th>
<th>Other/don't know</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>34%</td>
<td>51%</td>
<td>15%</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

By age
- 16-29: 41%
- 30-44: 36%
- 60+: 27%

All
- 28%
- 39%
- 24%

Question: Let's assume that a unified Germany is a member of NATO. The question is what should happen to the American troops in Germany?

West German respondents
- There should be American troops in Germany
- There should be mixed units with Americans
- American troops should be withdrawn completely
- Undecided

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>All</th>
<th>Prefer to see a reunified Germany as part of NATO</th>
<th>Neutral</th>
<th>Other/don't know</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>39%</td>
<td>28%</td>
<td>24%</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

By age
- 16-29: 36%
- 30-44: 36%
- 60+: 36%

Question: Troops from various countries are stationed in the Federal Republic. For example, from America, Belgium, and the United Kingdom, just as troops from other NATO countries are stationed in other European countries. Which of these two opinions would you generally agree with?

West German respondents
- We should continue to accept troops here
- I am in favor of withdrawing from NATO
- Undecided

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>All</th>
<th>Prefer to see a reunified Germany as part of NATO</th>
<th>Neutral</th>
<th>Other/don't know</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>54%</td>
<td>31%</td>
<td>15%</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

By age
- 16-29: 49%
- 30-44: 54%
- 60+: 55%

All
- 41%
- 26%
- 31%

Question: As you know, the federal government and the government of the GDR have signed the state treaty on economic union to create a monetary, economic, and social union. According to what you have heard or read about this, do you generally have a good impression of this agreement or do you not have a good impression of it?

West German respondents
- Generally have a good impression of economic union
- Generally not a good impression
- Undecided/don't know

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>All</th>
<th>Prefer to see a reunified Germany as part of NATO</th>
<th>Neutral</th>
<th>Other/don't know</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>41%</td>
<td>26%</td>
<td>31%</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

By age
- 16-29: 31%
- 30-44: 44%
- 60+: 47%

All
- 36%
- 36%
- 36%